

is looking for a comedian.

Here's the deal. We own @ai on TikTok. Two letters. Three videos posted, 94,500 likes, and our third post ever (an AI grandma wasting a scammer's time) took off. We also run the Artificial Intelligence Discord and the AI Tools Skool community.

We want to turn @ai into the funniest AI account on the internet, because honestly people are scared of AI and laughing at it helps.

That's where you come in. We're hiring a comedian-in-residence. You'd be the face of the account: writing and performing 3 to 4 videos a week, with an editor handling post.

What we want: funny first, warm always. Make fun of AI hype, not regular people. If you can write a joke about LLMs your mom would laugh at, we should talk.

The tryout is paid, but only for finalists. Here's how it works:

- 01 Apply with your 2 best clips and a paragraph on how you'd make AI funny. That's the whole application.
 - 02 We pick up to 3 finalists. Finalists send 5 video ideas, a paragraph each, within 5 days.
 - 03 Each finalist makes one finished video from their best idea, within 7 days of selection.
 - 04 Finalists get $1,000 within a week of delivery, whether we hire you or not.
 - 05 If a pilot video is good enough we post it on @ai. If it's not, only we see it and the idea stays yours. If we hire you, it rolls into the job.
-

How we'll judge it: is it funny, did it hook us in 3 seconds, can we actually work with you, and would a sponsor be proud to have their name next to it.

To apply, DM @ai on TikTok (www.tiktok.com/@ai) or email easyguidetolearnai@gmail.com. Send your 2 best clips (under 90 seconds each) and a paragraph on how you'd make AI funny. Deadline: October 1, 2026.